Aaron Gilmore, Product Designer

CV

Introduction

Senior product designer with 15 years of experience across consumer products, commerce, cultural platforms and B2B software. I embed with product and leadership teams to shape direction, align stakeholders and deliver complex mobile and web experiences with engineers.

Experience

A Color Bright
Senior Product Designer, 2020–Present

A Berlin-based design studio working across digital products, brands and technology. I embed with client product teams from early research and prototyping through delivery. Recent work includes leading Carhartt WIP's B2B marketing hub, shaping Superhuman's mobile ecosystem and building a multi-platform design system for OS/.

Dawson Andrews
Senior Designer, 2018–2020
Contractor, 2017–2018

A product studio specialising in design, strategy and software development. I joined as a contractor to support the relaunch of Toys "R" Us before moving into a Senior Designer role, delivering product work for clients including Gaelic Athletic Association and The GSM Association.

Sports Fusion
Mid-level Designer, 2015–2017

A technology company building digital products and services for the sports and leisure industries. I designed digital experiences for clients including Liverpool Football Club and PGMOL.

Brewbot
Junior Designer 2012–2014
Design Intern 2011–2012

A Belfast startup that created a connected brewing system controlled through a mobile app. I joined as a Design Intern as part of my bachelor's degree and progressed to Junior Designer, contributing to hardware prototyping and software design.
